

ModPods™

Temporary & Emergency Shelter Units
For Short-Term Housing, Disaster Response, Office Space & More!

Housing Resources Inc. offers 50 unused ModPods for sale

HRI purchased these units in 2021 for a planned temporary housing project. Other organizations have since replaced that plan with other projects, making these new, unused ModPods available immediately for other uses.

ModPods provide short-term living space that is safe and secure for individuals who are displaced due to homelessness, natural disaster or other crisis. These units can also be used as temporary office space at construction and project sites, as overnight units at campgrounds or event sites, and for many other private and commercial needs.

Each 8x8-foot ModPod comes with 1 or 2 beds, storage space, and is equipped for heating, air conditioning and electricity.

These units can be rapidly assembled and disassembled as needed, allowing for easier transport compared to mobile homes while providing more rigorous shelter than tents.
